« The power of the lawyer is the uncertainty of the law” (J. Bentham).

Working as a lawyer is one of the most intellectually rewarding jobs. From devising a trial strategy to forming a multi-million dollar merger, lawyers are problem-solvers, analysts and innovative thinkers. I strive to stay constantly up to date and continue to hone my problem-solving, negotiating, relationship-building, analytic, and creative-thinking skills to succeed.

SELECTED EXPERIENCE

As a member of the Banking & Finance department, I advise clients on all aspects of banking and finance law. I have a strong experience on regulatory matters. I also assist our clients involved in these fields in disputes pending in front of Luxembourg courts. I have developed strong skills which involved pragmatism in order to provide tailor-made solutions to our clients. I make the legal advice provided accessible to all the various stakeholders of our clients that question us.
