BRUCHER THIELTGEN
PARTNERS AVOCATS A LA COUR

Being a lawyer means above all to focus our attention on clients and their goals. Deliver the highest quality legal service. Being efficient and accessible are the required qualities in order to find suitable and effective solutions. As the law is constantly evolving, it is essential to always be curious, willing to learn and take on new challenges. I strive as much as possible to always provide personalized advices. In case of litigation, my priorities are to be reactive, combative and pragmatic in order to obtain the best result in light of the personal or economic issues of the file.

SELECTED EXPERIENCE

Having a solid expertise in civil and commercial litigation, I advise and assist our clients on various aspects of their activities, including shareholder disputes, debt recovery, employment, real estate. Having a particular interest in writing, I am very active in complex litigations involving the drafting of voluminous summons. I have also developed strong knowledges in contract law and I constantly keep informed about legal and jurisprudential developments in this matter. This gives me the opportunity to assist our clients in a very rigorous way in the drafting and negotiation of various agreements and transactions, as well as in any kind of litigation involving obligations.
