BRUCHER THIELTGEN
PARTNERS AVOCATS A LA COUR

The lawyer is the only person left at your side when everyone turns away. To be a lawyer is to stand by your client no matter what. It means directing them towards the most pragmatic solution, taking into account the client's expectations as well as the reality of the case. To succeed in this mission, I intend to remain curious, motivated and passionate.

SELECTED EXPERIENCE

I specialize in criminal law, more specifically in white collar crime. I advise clients in criminal proceedings, from the complaint to the final trial. I also assist them in the recovery of damages resulting from criminal offences of which they have been victims.

I'm able to advise on financial and business criminal matters, at any stage of the criminal proceedings : preliminary investigation - investigation - hearing before the Luxembourg courts etc.

EDUCATION

- Master 2 - European Business Law, University of Franche-Comté - Besançon (France)
