“Discourage litigation. Persuade your neighbor to compromise whenever you can. As a peacemaker the lawyer has a superior opportunity of being a good man. There will still be business enough” A. Lincoln.

I believe the true asset of an outstanding lawyer consists in his capacity to absorb and digest a great deal of information in order to analyze and organize the information in a logical manner. He has an extensive overview of a case or a transaction because of it and it allows him to prevent future issues and not only settle disputes.

At every moment, I try to meet or exceed client's expectations in my field of activity and create the basis for a long-term relationship.
